FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WINTER HAVEN, FL (April 6, 2011) – The Optometric Retina Society in conjunction with The Center for Retina and Macular Disease announces The Optometric Retina Symposium at Walt Disney World. This one-of-a-kind meeting is the first to be developed through the cooperative efforts of optometrists and retinal specialists. This program is designed to bring a new educational format to the practitioners in the form of “quick hit” cutting-edge topics.

The Optometric Retina Symposium is a high-quality, professional development event designed to combine the efforts of two successful organizations rich in educational philosophy... The Optometric Retina Society and The Center for Retina and Macular Disease.

“The Optometric Retina Society strives to develop the most pertinent educational programs and documents in a timely fashion to enable doctors to better serve patients. Partnering with CRMD and utilizing their educational and clinical expertise provides a brilliant combination to deliver a highly successful event”- Dr. Larry Alexander, President of The Optometric Retina Society.

The Optometric Retina Symposium will take place at Walt Disney World’s Yacht & Beach Club on August 26-28, 2011. “Where dreams really can come true,” the site boasts world class meeting rooms and accommodations that are a perfect fit for the program.
